Digitalisation of the working world is progressing at a dizzying pace. New solutions are launched on the market every day. ASSMANN SMART Office Solutions are part of them. As one of Europe's leading manufacturers of office furniture, we are constantly reinventing the world of work. To do so, we develop office solutions like the ASSMANN SMART booking software that gives employees and companies new and attractive opportunities to design their working routines.

Discover and harness the potential of New Work. ASSMANN SMART Office Solutions.

New Work is thought of as the working method of the future, but it actually arrived a long time ago – and many companies have placed its practical implementation at the top of their agendas. This transformation means more than just digitalisation and encompasses innovative methods of work organisation and workplace design affecting virtually every area.

People are focusing more and more on mobile work and working from home, and the modernisation of workplace concepts is currently progressing at a mind-boggling pace across every sector of the economy. What counts now is to recognise and harness the potential that these new opportunities bring. To ensure that this transformation succeeds, we not only offer the right furnishing solutions and furniture, but also the matching software, smart interfaces and personal consulting on workplace design. This approach turns an array of standalone solutions for workplace organisation into an end-to-end strategy in which ASSMANN SMART Office Solutions enable easy all-round management of New Work approaches.

ASSMANN SMART closes the gap between digital applications and the reality of working life.

The new working world comes with a vast array of digital solutions that simplify planning and processes, eliminate routine tasks, enable productive virtual meetings and much more. Each program is useful in itself, but often there is a lack of a connecting feature to ensure meaningful coordination of the individual solutions. Collaboration is the magic word. This is where ASSMANN SMART Office steps in to enable the intelligent integration and central management of useful programs such as time logging systems, meeting tools, email systems and calendar functions.

Features of the ASSMANN SMART booking software

- Integration and connection of all office workplaces, conference rooms, parking spaces, cabinets and all other generally accessible and shared furniture using RFID chips, NFC or QR codes
- Individual booking by PC, laptop, smartphone or tablet
- Occupation and capacity overview
- Management of personal settings for standing and seat heights on adjustable furniture
- History of furniture bookings and occupation data to produce optimised room and usage profiles
- Interfaces for integration in mobile office solutions
- Interfaces to facility management or time logging systems
- Fast integration of furniture, rooms, parking spaces and company vehicles
- Available either as a standalone software solution or as a sensor-assisted end-to-end package
- Integration of passive bookings and release of booked but unused resources
- Compatible with conference room screens, kiosk systems and guest management programs with display on PC, laptop, tablet and smartphone apps
- Simplification of multi-site, facility or floor management
- Usage analysis for all available sitting/standing desks
- Mapping of maintenance issues and evaluation of all fault notifications
- The cloud-based solution requires little to no hardware or network resources
- GDPR compliant

Convenient: Mobile booking of workplaces, lockers, project space and more using a smart-phone or tablet

It is already clear: New Work will add flexibility and above all mobility to our office work. And ASSMANN SMART Office Solutions will contribute to this development by enabling employees to rise to the fresh challenges of organising their work. This is because the ASSMANN SMART booking software creates a connectivity network for all office workplaces and more. You will be thrilled by the countless opportunities to organise mobile work.

My profile, my workplace the convenient way – with ASSMANN SMART

If one thinks of office furniture and equipment as hardware, then ASSMANN SMART office software creates the connections and interfaces to the digital world of work. It doesn't matter whether it's an open space solution with desk sharing or mobile work. Preconfigured office workplaces or software-controlled electronic locker systems make your work more flexible and conveniently improve internal workflows and structures.

My workplace

Book your own height-adjustable desk with personal settings and your own swivel chair.

My filing space

Generally, employees will also require secure filing space with storage compartments for their paper documents. This is bookable as well!

My handover

A secure locker can be booked to hand over projects, and the relevant staff are notified that something has been deposited in the locker for retrieval. The access code is transmitted in a digital message.

Injecting flexibility and agility into mobile work

A blend of mobile and stationary scenarios is a characteristic feature of New Work. People increasingly prefer to work from home, at least for defined portions of their working hours. Some of them, who were already doing mobile work previously because of the nature of their jobs – e.g. sales staff – are now profiting from the new digital applications. ASSMANN SMART Office creates added flexibility and agility for all departments and employees, while at the same time improving transparency and connectivity between the various organisational units – regardless of where the work is actually being performed.

My team room

Central booking and reservation of a conference room for team presentations or brainstorming sessions.

My car, my parking space

A company car can be booked from the fleet for business travel. Parking spaces or e-charging stations can also be reserved for personal vehicles.

ASSMANN SMART – the ideal solution for companies and employees

Digitalisation and mobile work have been on the agenda for years. But the issue became even more topical in 2020 with the onset of the covid-19 pandemic, when companies and their employees were forced to learn new ways of coordinating and organising their work. A greater acceptance of digital tools and an openness for their benefits is noticeable everywhere. ASSMANN SMART is the best way to put New Work methods and all their benefits into practice.

Good for the staff:

- Working from home – whether permanently or sometimes – has become an integral part of organising routines for every office worker.
- The digital solutions are highly intuitive and easy to use.
- Their neat, pictorial format is easy to understand and promotes user acceptance from day one.
- Working with smart solutions is innovative and inspires users to look for additional opportunities.
- Installing ASSMANN SMART sends a clear signal: the company is innovative and up to speed with New Work.

Good for the company:

- ASSMANN SMART connects a large number of current digital solutions that have used so far as standalone apps.
- Adds many new opportunities and services.
- Noticeably practical benefits for booking parking spaces and rooms.
- Increase in staff self-organisation and motivation.
- Quick and easy to install. It only takes one or two working days to connect a company with up to 100 workplaces.
- The smart solutions deliver important data and facts on the use of all connected services like room occupation or the frequency with which configuration options are used for height-adjustable desks.
- The collected analysis data refers to the use and not to specific persons.
- ASSMANN SMART is a cloud-based solution and does not require additional company resources after installation.

ASSMANN SMART Office-Services:

- Consulting and implementation for a flexible office.
- Planning and visualisation of new work environments and space concepts, as well as the reorganisation of current workplaces.
- Interfaces to existing time logging or facility management systems and implementation of system integration if necessary.
- User training.
- Joint preparation of user rules.
